

Subject Specific Vocabulary		How is Our Country changing?	Exciting Books
Ordnance Survey (OS) grid references	The UK is covered by a grid of maps that are given letters.
physical feature	Naturally occurring, e.g. rivers, mountains, lakes.
seasons	A time of year marked by certain conditions: spring, summer, autumn, winter.
tourism	A worldwide industry based on travel for leisure, pleasure, business, and other reasons that provides information, amenities, attractions, accommodation etc.
migration	The movement of people or animals from one place to another.
man-made	Something built by humans.
North, South, East, West	Compass points, locational vocabulary.		<input type="checkbox"/> Spon Street, a medieval street which managed to avoid significant damage during the Blitz. Following the war, many other medieval timber framed buildings were relocated to Spon Street in order to preserve them.
The United Kingdom of Great Britain and Northern Ireland	Political union of England, Scotland, Wales and Northern Ireland.	<input type="checkbox"/> The United Kingdom is the world's 22nd-most populated country, with some 64 million inhabitants.	<input type="checkbox"/> Changes were continual – wartime events caused rapid change, but the city was developing before the war, and has evolved ever since.
Great Britain	The island consisting of England, Scotland and Wales.	<input type="checkbox"/> World War II changed the West Midlands region.	<input type="checkbox"/> Environmental and sustainability perspective involved in future development.
country	A political area defined by physical, human, or cultural features.	<input type="checkbox"/> The 2012 Olympics and Paralympics aimed to be 'the sustainable games' – and for future development of the site to be sustainable too.	<input type="checkbox"/> 'Change' isn't limited to a fixed period, and that places constantly change and develop.
city	A large town.	<input type="checkbox"/> The development of the 2012 Olympic and Paralympic Park is planned to continue until 2030 and beyond.	<input type="checkbox"/> London, the capital city, covers the third-largest urban area in Europe.	